

FAMILY NURSING AND CHRONIC DISEASES 35 ECTS

Objectives

After completing this module students are able to plan, implement and evaluate the treatment of patients having the most common national diseases. Students are able to guide and are committed to both client's / patient's and his family's health maintenance and promotion. Students are also able to recognize the etiology of the most common diseases and disease symptoms and know the typical medical and health science cures. Students acquire and use current evidence-based care and multi-disciplinary information in the individual holistic care process.

Competences: Competence in customerships in health care, Competence in health promotion, Clinical competence; Counselling and mentoring competence, Ethical competence